Daavid Allen & The Magick Brothers

£10adv £12door plus Roz Bruce

Daavid Allen was one of the founders of the British progressive rock band Soft Machine. After recording just one album with the group, he became the founder/leader of Gong, which he left in 1973 to begin a solo career. Since then Allen has continued to explore his quirky, folkly take on rock. www.planetgong.co.uk

Fri 9

Los Pacaminos

£12adv plus Angie Boxhill

Los Pacaminos formed as an opportunity to play their shared passion of border, Tex-Mex and Americana music so loved by the members of the band. Word got around, as word does, and soon the band started playing gigs. All of Los Pacaminos have been members of Paul Young's bands through the '80s and '90s.

Airship

£6adv £8door plus support

Airship find themselves somewhere between the gutter and the stars, they play the highs and lows of their daily lives through a sound brought together by the glacial shimmer of Sigur Ros and the dark wonderment of the band's favourite record, The Cure's 'Disintegration'. www.myspace.com/airshiptheband

Slaid Cleaves

Austin, Tex.-based singer-songwriter Slaid Cleaves is one of the most widely respected (if frequently critically overlooked) artists in his genre. Generally considered a "songwriters' songwriter," Cleaves has produced a number of albums which are far better than he gets credit for. www.slaid.com

Benjamin Francis Leftwich

£8adv plus support

Benjamin Francis Leftwich is an English singer-songwriter from York. Leftwich began playing at the age of ten and grew up listening to The Rolling Stones and Nina Simone; later discovering Nick Drake, Bob Dylan, and Elliott Smith. He cites Arcade Fire, Ryan Adams, and Bruce Springsteen as inspirations.

Roachford

£12adv

Ever since bulldozing his way onto the scene with 'Cuddly Toy' and 'Family Man' in the late 80s, Andrew Roachford's maverick take on music has spread far and wide. As the first artist to sign a seven-album deal with Columbia Records, it heralded the beginning of something big. As if any more proof were needed, the fact that Andrew Roachford has been approached by such luminaries as Michael Jackson and Chaka Khan to write songs speaks volumes.
