THE BLUEFIELDS

£12.50adv £15otd - Roaming Son

The Bluefields are an American rock band from Nashville, Tennessee featuring Joe Blanton, Warner Hodges, Dan Baird and Brad Pemberton. Their rock and roll story might be as pure and simple as the prior statement if it weren't for the fact that the combined band members' resumes boast platinum record success, a Grammy nomination, an Americana Hall of Fame Lifetime Achievement Award and song authorships that have become iconic, rock and roll standards, making this band far from simple. thebluefields.com

RAINBOW GIRLS

£10adv £12otd - plus Marty O'Reilly & The Old Soul Orchestra

After a brilliant gig last year we had to bring them back. The sound of the Rainbow Girls is a big and boisterous mix of alt-country and Americana, with a sprinkling of ethereal folk thrown in for good measure. Onstage or on the street, they swap instruments and trade lead vocalist duties with an energy and approachability that's been known to get folks up and dancing, no matter where they may be. Top class stomp folk! www.rainbowgirlsmusic.com

IAN MCLAGAN WITH JON NOTARTHOMAS

£12adv £15otd

Ian McLagan is a genuine, dyed-in-the-wool rock 'n' roller. In fact, his smiling visage - he was, after all, a member of the Small Faces and the Faces - would serve as an ideal illustration in the proverbial Dictionary of What Is Truly Cool. A British rock legend, Ian McLagan's musical career began in the 1960's in the UK as the keyboard player for the Small Faces and the Faces. His Wuritzer electric piano is heard on everything from Stay With Me by the Faces to the smash hit Miss You by The Rolling Stones, and Mac's trademark Hammond B-3 organ is featured on the Small Faces classic Itchycoo Park. ianmclagan.com

JOHN FULLBRIGHT

£10adv £12otd - plus Richard Warren

John Fullbright is one of the most exciting singer-songwriters to emerge this decade. His astonishing debut album From the Ground Up features original songs bursting with a musical and lyrical prowess. His songs capture an America not heard on disc for a very long time and conjure up an authenticity that recalls all the greats. Born in Woody Guthrie's hometown of Okemah, Oklahoma, he grew up surrounded by a rich musical heritage. He started playing the piano at 5 and learned to play guitar at the legendary Blue Door eventually supporting Joe Ely and Jimmy Webb. johnfullbrightmusic.com

CANNED HEAT

£22.50adv £25otd - plus The Della Grants

Emerging in 1966, Canned Heat was founded by Alan "Blind Owl" Wilson and Bob "The Bear" Hite, the name "Canned Heat" taken from a 1928 recording by Tommy Johnson. The band attained three worldwide hits, "On The Road Again" in 1968, "Let's Work Together" in 1970 and "Going Up The Country" in 1969 became rock anthems throughout the world with the latter being adopted as the unofficial theme song for the film Woodstock and the "Woodstock Generation." cannedheatmusic.com

GRACE PETRIE

£8 £6con - plus Jasmine Kennedy

Grace Petrie comes from Leicester. She writes indie folk rock songs (a couple with an acoustic punk twist), plays the guitar and sings with a voice that has been likened by listeners to Laura Marling and Kate Nash. In 2010 Grace's music began to take a new, political direction. The heartbreaking results of the UK general election inspired in her such rage and despair that she picked up a guitar and wrote what has become one of the most celebrated anti-establishment anthems of recent times, Farewell to Welfare. gracepetrie.com
